42nd Annual MCA-I Media Festival Call for Entries Extended to September 15, 2010

Enter today and compete for a
Golden Reel!

The heat of the summer and lots of vacations lets us extend the Call for Entries in the MCA-I Media Festival through September 15, 2010 when our judging panels are back to work.

Check out the Call for Entries.

Although the response was favorable to last year's online format, the 2010 MCA-I Media Festival returns to its original format of submissions via mail, CD/DVD/URL entries and printed entry forms.

The Category descriptions and interactive Entry Form are on the website and can be filled out electronically, then printed out for ease of submission with discs or URLs.

Media Festival Gallery Open to Non-Members During MCA-I Media Festival "Call for Entries" Until September 15, 2010

Have you checked out the MCA-I Media Festival Winners (in fact all the entries) on the Media Festival Gallery. The gallery is hosted by Multicast and their Media Suite. This is usually a "member's only" Gallery, but during this year's Call for Entries for the Media Festival, you will be able to view last years entrants and winners.

Put yourself into the shoes of the judges. It's a great way to understand what resonates with a viewer, so that you can create communications that connect.
